Regarding	Follow up investment in TETMET SAS

On 13 November 2025, MFG Invest AD made an additional investment of EUR 100,000 (one hundred thousand euros) in TETMET SAS, a company based in France, the Netherlands and USA. This investment is part of the company's seed round, which is expected to total between USD 6–10 million and implies a post-money valuation of approximately USD 38 million. Our investment is made through a SAFE instrument, which will convert into shares at closing.

In December 2024, TETMET SAS successfully completed its pre-seed round at a valuation of EUR 17.5 million. The current financing round, taking place just one year later, demonstrates the significant progress the company has made in developing its technology.

About TETMET

TETMET is a French company that has developed the ASLM (Adaptive Spatial Lattice Manufacturing) technology, which stands for adaptive spatial lattice manufacturing. It involves spot welding using robots and advanced artificial intelligence on metal rods. This process can create structural elements using 40-70% less material and up to 99% less energy than conventional methods.

The application of the technology is broad, with the company currently focusing on the automotive, aerospace, and spacecraft industries. The business model involves licensing software for the design of elements and the management of the robots that produce them. The efficiency of this model lies in the fact that clients often already own the necessary robots, and TETMET's software, LDS, helps them enhance their developments.
